

Research Methods and Results of Masterthesis on Supervision-Subjects

The postgraduate course „Supervision & Coaching“ at the Danube-University Krems (Austria) is theoretically based in the Integrative theory. The course was established in 2000, since then 76 persons within 8 courses have published 61 master thesis and 15 academic project works and completed their studies. This poster gives an overview of the themes of master-thesis research projects, which have been realised by students of the MSc.-Course. The research has been conducted by qualitative and quantitative methods and shows a broad range of perspectives in different fields of supervision.

empirical research

theoretical / literature based themes qualitative quantitative

topics of masterthesis

- pressures at work
- gender<sup>2&5</sup> expertise & skills
- Burn-Out<sup>1</sup>
- Working with creative media
- volunteering in non-profit-organizations
- effects, side-effects & risks of supervision
- supervision & integrative theory<sup>4</sup>
- analysis of supervision processes
- philosophical, social-psychological and ethical questions ## administration/economic sector

- business<sup>1</sup>/ team & organizations /executive coaching & counselling / organisational development

psycho-social-education sector<sup>2</sup>:

- healthcare: hospital /psychiatry
- care-/work with elderly
- kindergarten/ school
- counselling institutions like crisis line

“Best practice” masterpieces

- <sup>1</sup> Burn Out in der IT-Branche. Sind Reflexion, Coaching und Supervision wirksame Instrumente zur erfolgreichen Prävention? (Tim Sturm, 2012)
- <sup>2</sup> Gender matters!?! Genderkompetenz in der Supervision. Zur Bedeutung der Genderkompetenz von Supervisorinnen und Supervisoren im psychosozialen Feld. (Sabine Karlinger, 2010)
- <sup>3</sup> Supervision als Ressource von Telefonseelsorge. Eine Feld-erkundung zur Rolle und Bedeutung von Supervision mit Ehren-amtlichen in der Telefonseelsorge aus Integrativer Sicht. (Gabriele Hollmann, 2011)
- <sup>4</sup> Was heißt Integrität? (Bernd Bösel, 2011)
- <sup>5</sup> Genderkompetente Integrative Supervision (Surur Abdel-Hussain, 2008)

Scientific support program

