Historical background in supervision praxis

1. Supervision as part of psychotherapy:

1950th- czech psychoanalysts

1960th- as a part of the training community SUR

1980th- Balint groups (psychotrapietie institute)

2. Supervision in the field of social work:

1995- drug prevention system K-centres

1995- supervision of practice at Charles University

1999- social work projects requirements at MOLSA

Training in supervision

- 1996 - Phare project FFUK, Socium Carolinum inviting british EDSAL + uni Warwick, training of trainers of supervision
 - ➔ FHS UK university program in 2000 - orientation on ANSE standards
- 1997 - Julie Hewson TA psychotherapist- training for experienced psychoterapists
 - ➔ Czech institute for supervision ČIS- 2001 EAS standards
 - ➔ ČMISK 2013 EASC standards

Contemporary institutional development

- 3 serious training providers: FHS UK, ČIS, since 2013 ČMIS
- 2008- Consensus of training providers on minimum standards
- 4 trials to negotiate a common National association for supervision already failed (2004, 2008, 2010, 2013)
- Low number of face to face training, which is against standards of ANSE seems to be an obstacle???

Fields where supervision is used

- Social services – very common – obligatory since 2006 by act from MOLSA
- Psychotherapy – common, as a part of certain „schools“ (like Gestalt). Recognised supervisors at the web page of their associations.
- Schools and school facilities – seldom – guidelines from MŠMT 2010- ČMIS aspires to promote and train school supervisors
- Health care– rare – as trained supervisors about 10 nurses, 10 psychiatrists, cca 5 medical doctors of other fields
